SATURDAY'S affairs on the field of college honor in the Missouri valley, although mostly practice games, give a fair line on the early season condition of the Conference eleven. While Coach Schulte's Tigers were collecting their twenty tallies against the freshmen on Rollins field, the Jayhawkers from Lawrence were disappointing their followers in their inability to pile up a score against the Emporia Normals. The 13 to 0 count shows that considering the work that Coach Olcott has inflicted on his candidates already this fall, there is but little hope for the Rock Chalk in the real test with Illinois Saturday.

Drake beat Penn College of Iowa by a 7 to 2 score, which doesn't prove much about the Bulldogs' condition; and Ames gave the Iowa pedagogues a 29 to 0 drubbing, which shows that Director Clyde Williams is starting the season in regular Ames fashion, notwithstanding he has only five letter men back in school.

Van Gent's Texas Longhorns beat the Southern Methodists 74 to 0, proving that the former Tiger freshman instructor has not been idle on the border. Even if the Methodists are of high school gridiron caliber the amassing of seventy-four points in sixty minutes of play shows that the Texans are running well together early in the season.

Sooners Secured

Only 27 Points Saturday.

Bennie Owens' Oklahoma Sooners beat the Central Normals 27 to 0. Last year Geyer forward passed 108 points over the heads of the same eleven. The relative strength of the Sooners who beat Missouri last year and those of the present writing can thereby be predicted.

Although Nebraska was idle Saturday the Cornhuskers and Drake will stage the first 1916 battle within the Conference Saturday, while Kansas and Illinois are playing at Urbana, and Washington U. is opening with Rose Polytechnic. The following Saturday Missouri meets Washington U. in Columbia, Ames meets Kansas and the Kansas Aggies meet Nebraska, furnishing an early season line on the relative strength of the Tigers' most formidable enemies.

A week after the Ames-Kansas affair, the Tigers battle the Iowa State men here in Columbia.

Alumni Sending Husky Kansas Next Year.

The best all-around athlete the Kansas high schools turned out last year will be a Tiger next year," said E. W. Clausen, LL. B. '10, in the rooms of the University Alumni Association office Saturday. Mr. Clausen has been practicing law at Atchison, Kans., since graduating, and has been active in lining up good men for the Tiger teams.

Paul Alleya of Atchison is the athlete. Alleya is eighteen years old, weighs 165 pounds and was picked for the all-star high school basketball team of Kansas last season. He is also known over Kansas as a half-back and has a record of 23.4 in the 220-yard dash.

Alleya would have entered this fall if he had not been offered a position for the winter that was too tempting to turn down. He will sure be on hand next fall, Clausen says.

Secret Practice Begins At M. U. This Afternoon.

After two weeks of tryouts, changes and scrimmages the Tigers began secret practice this afternoon in an attempt to develop their team play, both offensive and defensive. Schulte has been getting a line on the football candidates for the last couple of weeks and will assign the players fairly definite places on the different squads this week.

"The scrimmage Saturday was ragged, but it showed me what to expect of the different players," said Schulte this morning. Some of the men are in poor condition and for that reason I was unable to use them Saturday, but I think they will be fit in a day or two and will get a chance to show what they can do this week against the freshmen or with Central on Saturday."

The regular line men who were in the game Saturday showed well. Van Dyne is putting up the best game in his school career, while Hamilton and Lansing worked fine in the center of the line. Lansing is not in condition just now but Schulte expects to put him into good shape before any of the big games.

The backfield is still uncertain. Starkowski seems certain of a place, but a great variety of candidates—mostly lightweights—are trying for the other positions.

Simpson Sends Final

Word As He Sails.

"I am homing with Fred," says Bob Simpson in a recent letter to Schulte. This is all the star hurdler says but those who know Bob can put the rest together—a friendship between Simpson and Murray, two rival hurdlers.

"The boat is 525 feet long" is another characteristic sentence from Bob's letter, which was written as the boat was passing the Statue of Liberty. He tells of Ward, the St. Louis sprinter, making the boat "by the skin of his teeth" and of Ted Meredith's determination to get rid of his boils and get into condition for the European meets.

Simpson gives his European address as "American Track Team, care of U. S. Express Company, Stockholm, Sweden." He says that he and the rest of the athletes are about the only ones on board the boat who speak English, the others being Swedish.

Jayhawkers Were Lucky To Win From Normals.

In their first game of the season Saturday the Jayhawkers were lucky to win from the Kansas Normals. Both of the Kansas touchdowns were lucky, one resulting from a forward pass and the other on a wild punt by the Normals. Out of eight attempts at forward passes, the Jayhawkers completed three while three were intercepted. The Normals made eight out of twenty, only two being intercepted. The Jayhawkers outscrimmaged their lighter opponents only 178 yards to 113, while Coach Olcott's machine lost 120 yards by penalties to their opponents 20 yards. Cowgill, left half and Health, right end, excelled for the Jayhawkers.

Over at Manhattan the Kansas Aggie team got a better start for the 1916 season than their Lawrence neighbors. Clevenger's eleven downed the Baker eleven by a 20-to-0 score and there was nothing fluky about the victory. Several of the new men showed up strong and prospects are for a better team than the one which held the Tigers to a scoreless tie here last year.

M. U. COLONY BREAKING UP Only Two of Six Graduates Left at Regina, Canada.

H. H. Kinyon, University publisher, has received a letter from C. M. Elliot, formerly assistant University publisher, saying that the University of Missouri colony in Regina, Canada, is about broken up.

Hugh McKay, formerly University publisher, and who was until recently managing city editor of the Regina Evening Providence, has gone to Oklahoma, writes Mr. Elliot. Jack Level, former city editor of the Providence, joined the New York National Guards when the trouble broke out in Mexico and is still thought to be at the border. John Murray, who began reporting on the Providence this summer, has joined the Seventy-Seventh Battery of the Canadian expeditionary force and is now training to go overseas. Dean Snyder, a former student in the University, and who was connected until recently with the Providence, is now working on a paper in Toronto. That leaves only Randolph Patton and J. Russell Ellis, B. S. in C. E. '08, assistant city engineer of Regina, as the only two representatives of Missouri there.

Mr. Elliot is now with the International Press at Toronto. He was formerly advertising manager of the Regina, Evening Providence.

RIVALS "THE SPOILERS."

The one rival to that great photograph production, "The Spoilers," has been filmed by the Selig Company. "THE NE'ER-DO-WELL" was also written by Rex Beach and a majority of the Selig stars who aided in making "The Spoilers" famous, appear in its worthy successor, "THE NE'ER-DO-WELL."

A special company of Selig stars, including Kathryn Williams, Wheeler Oakman, Eugene Besserer, Jack McDonald, Frank Clark, Harry Lonsdale and others, were escorted to Panama by William N. Selig in order that true atmosphere called for in Rex Beach's story might be filmed.

The operation of a Panama fire department is not the least interesting of the many scenes in and near the Canal Zone. In the opening reel of "THE NE'ER-DO-WELL" there is a hand-to-hand combat that is one of the most realistic ever presented in motion pictures.

At the Star Theatre on Oct. 5-6.
